

- Recommendations for potential buyers of non-linear diagnostics systems

WHEN CHOOSING NON-LINEAR DIAGNOSTICS SYSTEMS
MANUFACTURED BY OTHER COMPANIES WE RECOMMEND YOU TO APPLY THE FOLLOWING CRITERIA

Carefully read contents of booklets, brochures and web-pages. Pay special attention to information about distributor/manufacturer of offered products. Information materials that you have must indicate name of a company, name of a responsible person from that company, legal address, contact phone numbers and electronic addresses, in EU countries – tax payer number and registration information.

If you have contact information of such company communicate with staff of this company and make sure that such company really exists.

Ask distributor/manufacturer of a product about history of its creation and development – for example: who created the product, where and when it was clinically tested, what models were produced in the past and what models are planned to be produced, etc. Try to check received information.

If distributor/manufacturer refers to the IPP, LLC or to Mr. Vladimir Nesterov as authors of non-linear diagnostics systems who presumably could have given to this distributor/manufacturer a right for manufacturing and sales of such systems, we recommend you to apply to us for clarification.

If prices are given in US dollars or other currency in spite the fact that distributor/manufacturer is located in EU in Euro currency zone or given prices are much lower than usual price for similar products of other manufacturers, we recommend you to ask distributor/manufacturer for more detailed information with reasons of currency choosing or price quotation. Try to check received information.

Make sure that distributor/manufacturer has all necessary authorizations and admissions issued by state bodies of his country.

Make sure that system that you want to purchase has all necessary authorizations and admissions for your country, if those are missing we recommend you to obtain information about how to get such authorization in your country.

Prior to purchase get binding offer from distributor in which description and delivery set of offered equipment must be listed. The following document must be given to you together with a device:

- Passport of manufacturing plant,
- Warranty,
- User's manual,
- Invoice.

When you buying a system with “Metatron” trademark with software similar by appearance and name to products of the IPP, LLC or at a price much lower than market price or not from authorized representatives of the IPP, LLC or if you have any other doubts, we recommend you to contact us for clarification.

When you buying a system from other manufacturers and with other trademarks, distinct from “Metatron™”, containing however software similar by appearance and name to products of the IPP, we recommend you to contact us for clarification.

If price includes training courses on system handling, make sure that distributor/manufacturer or any other authorized by him person has necessary competence and experience. It is advisably to get recommendations from persons graduated from such training courses. The same rules are applicable for separate training courses, extension courses, etc.

If your lecturer refers to authorization for holding of training courses from the IPP, LLC but he is not an authorized distributor of the IPP, LLC, we recommend you to contact us for clarification.

We wish you every success,
